"THE BLUE AND THE GRAY."

BY BESSIE H——.

[A lady in New Jersey who had written the following reply to the poem from the "Atlantic Monthly," entitled "The Blue and the Gray," (published in our October paper,) wrote us a short complimentary note on Mr. Dalzell's poem in the December number of our paper. In reply to a request for a copy of her verses, we are favored with the following fine verses. [Ed. "Soldier's Friend."]

The loyal Blue and traitor Gray
Alike in the grave are sleeping,
Lying side by side in the sunlight's ray,
And under the storm-cloud sweeping.
'Tis well to forgive the past—
God giving us grace, we may,
But never, while life shall last,
Can we honor or love the Gray.

Our Boys in Blue were loyal and true,
For their God and their country dying;
With a watchful pride that is ever new,
We garland the graves where they're lying.
They were murdered by rebel bands,
They fell in fearful fray,
Guarding our Flag from traitor hands
We do not love the Gray.

We would not hate—our hearts would fain
Cast a veil o'er their shameful story,
It will not bring back our loyal slain,
To recall their treason gory.
But barriers deep and wide,
Divide the false from the true!
Shall treason and honor stand side by side?
Is the Gray the peer of the Blue?

Answers each loyal heart to-day,
"They are peers and equals never,
No wreaths on a traitors grave we lay,
Let shame be his wreath forever."
Give love where love is due,
To the loyal all honor pay;
Love and honor belong to the Blue,
But what do we owe to the gray?

We owe them three hundred thousand graves
Where the loved and the lost are lying;
We owe them, wherever our banner waves,
Homes, filled with tears and sighing.
Do they think that we forgot our dead,
Our boys who wore the Blue,
That because they sleep in the same cold bed
We know not the false from the true.

Believe it not! where our heroes lie
The very ground is holy,
His name who dared for the right to die
Is sacred, however lowly,
But honor the traitor Gray!
Make it the peer of the Blue!
One flower at the feet of treason lay!
Never! while God is true!

CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE AS THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE.

The possible nomination of Chief Justice Chase as the Democratic candidate for the next President is so generally and so gravely discussed that it would seem an affectation of eccentricity or a betrayal of alarm to avoid the topic. Neither seeking nor dreading such nomination, we can at least canvass it dispassionately. We will take as our text an article in the last N. Y. Times, which says:

"We do not think it can succeed, because we do not believe that two-thirds of the delegates in Convention can be brought to favor it. Aside from the hostility it will encounter on grounds of principle, the personal interests to be affected by it are too formidable to be overcome. The two-thirds rule, established for the slaughter of Mr Van. Buren at Baltimore in 1844, has become the settled law of the Democratic National Convention; and it will always be found effectual, not only in defeating any local favorite, but in preventing the adoption of any bold and striking change of party policy. Where two-thirds of the Convention can control its action, it is safe to say that its action will always be timid and commonplace. It was that which nominated Polk in 1844 and Pierce in 1852, and which defeated the party by splitting it in 1848 and 1860; and it will probably defeat the nomination of Pendleton, and prevent such a revolution in the party as the nomination of Chase would involve now."

We think the Times is here deluded by one of those superficial and misleading analogies which are continually leading a certain class of reasoners astray. The "two-thirds rule" had a temporary object—the defeat of Martin Van Buren in a Convention whereof a majority of the delegates were pledged to his support, but not sincerely favorable to his nomination—and an abiding purpose, in the firm resolve of the Slave Power to be enabled at all times to control the nomination or at least to prevent one hostile to its pretentions and presumed interests—the Slave States electing less than a majority, but more than a third of each Convention.

Slavery having perished, there is no more a slave-holding interest demanding distinct recognition and protection. A Southern "Conservative" (late Confederate,) has no interest, no feeling, which differences him from a Northern Democrat who was of Copperhead proclivities during the war. The "two-thirds rule" has therefore become unmeaning and practically obsolete. Whenever any candidate shall have obtained a majority of votes in any future Democratic Convention, his nomination will be assured, and must soon be proclaimed. Delegation after delegation will pronounce for him until his nomination is made practically unanimous. We still think Pendleton, not Chase, will be the man; but the "two-thirds rule" will hardly influence the result one way or the other.

The Times proceeds:

"It is understood that those who support Chase advocate also the adoption of his principles and policy. They will allow him substantially to make his platform. They hold that the war has disposed of all the questions that ever were at issue between him and them. Slavery, the grand source and origin of them all, has disappeared forever. They propose to regard as fixed and settled all the questions growing out of it and out of the war. They accept the Reconstruction action of Congress—urge the return of the South to the Union upon that basis—and take the broad ground of Universal Manhood Suffrage, without distinction of race or color, only leaving it to the action of the States themselves. It is impossible to imagine a greater revolution in a party than this."

We propose this is so, Mr. Chase, on a Copperhead platform, would be the weakest of all possible candidates—weaker, even than Vallandigham. We do not, of course, imply that he would consent to run on any such platform; we only state a fact verified by ample experience when we say that he would be beaten out of sight. Mr. Chase is a very able and strong man, but he has no signal personal popularity. On a Copperhead platform, Vallandigham would receive the votes of three to seven States; Chase would hardly get one. But it is idle to talk of this. If he is not to run on his own platform, he cannot run at all.

The Times continues:

"It may safely be assumed that nothing but the desperate sense of party necessity could bring any party to it, and it is scarcely possible that two-thirds of the Democratic party should concur in taking so desperate a view of its fortunes.

"Nor is it at all certain that the action proposed would save the party. If the whole strength of the party could be relied on in support of it, there might be some chance of its success. There are unquestionably some elements of disaffection in the Republican ranks, though they are much less influential than they were before the Chicago Convention; and if their strength could be added to the full Democratic vote, it would give the Democracy a fair chance of carrying several important Northern States, which would be certain for Grant as against any regular nominee of the Democratic party. But, with Chase as their candidate, and Universal Negro Suffrage in their platform, the Democrats expect also to divide the Southern colored vote, and so to carry several of the Southern States. This of course, involves the utter abandonment of the doctrine that this is exclusively the the "White Man's Government," which is just now the cardinal feature, the corner-stone, the only essential and fundamental principle, of the Democratic faith as held by the Democrats of the Southern States.

"We are inclined to think, therefore, that if the Democrats were to make Mr. Chase their candidate, five Democrats, both North and South, would vote for Grant, where one Republican, black or white, in either section would vote for Chase."

We think the Times here underrates the perfection of the Democratic discipline. Abstractly, one would say that nothing could be more difficult than to induce the Irish and Dutch of Cincinnati to vote for Gen. Sam. Cary—an avowed Republican, "a Maine law fanatic," &c, &c.; but Wash. McLean held up his finger and said, "Vote for Cary!" and they all went it.

If Judge Chase shall be nominated in Tammany Hall, 4th of July next, there will next morning be at least one million Democrats swearing that they won't touch him with a ten-foot pole. A week later, these will be reduced to half a million; in a month, to one hundred thousand; and these, by Election day, will have dwindled to a point invisible to the naked eye. Didn't Ben. Harris protest, in the last Democratic National Convention, that his fellow rebels in Maryland would never vote for McClellan? Yet look at the solid and heavy vote for him of Charles, Prince George's, St. Mary's, and all the pro-Rebel counties!

We concur with the Times to this extent—that it is now too late to beat Grant and Colfax with Chase and Hancock, Chase and Dix, or any other ticket. We think a majority of the voters have made up their minds to have Gen. Grant in the White House next March. If, then, the world is sure to be burned up before 1872, the Times' calculation is a sound one.

But, assuming that the general conflagration may be mercifully postponed, the Times takes too narrow a view of the situation. If you are doomed to be beaten in a race, there is still a choice between running it on a dead horse and a live one. The Whig party was beaten on Henry Clay in 1844; but it was stronger a month after than a month before that defeat—carried the next House of Representatives, and elected the next President. It was beaten again on Gen. Scott in 1852, and had hardly strength enough to kick ever afterward.

If the Democratic party shall now be beaten on a Chauncey Burr and Clay Dean Copperhead platform, it is beaten to stay. Repudiation crushes it in the North; Negro proscription and degradation forbids it to rise in the South. It fixes itself on the forlorn position of the Tories of the Revolution—the Federalists after the War of 1812. And perhaps this is better for the country, as it certainly is the more probable solution. A locomotive at full speed generally clings to the track till it goes to the dogs. —Tribune

GRANT AND COLFAX.

Their Letters Accepting Their Nomination and Endorsing the Platform of the Chicago Convention.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The following is General Grant's reply to the nomination of the Chicago Convention.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29, '68.

Gen. Joseph R. Hawley, President National Union Republican Convention.

In formally accepting the nomination of the National Union Republican Convention of the 21st of May, inst., it seems proper that some statement of my views, beyond the mere acceptance of the nomination, should be expressed. The proceedings of the convention were marked with wisdom, moderation and patriotism, and I believe express the feelings of the great mass of those who sustained the country through its trial. I endorse their resolutions. If elected to the office of President of the United States, it will be my endeavor to administer all the laws in good faith, with economy and with the view of giving peace, quiet and protection everywhere. In times like the present it is impossible, or at least eminently improper, to lay down a policy to be adhered to right or wrong through an administration of four years. New political issues, not foreseen, are constantly arising. The views of the public on old ones are constantly changing, and a purely administrative officer should always be left free to execute the will of the people. I always have respected that will, and always shall. Peace and universal prosperity, its sequence, with economy of administration, will lighten the burden of taxation, while it constantly reduces the public debt. Let us have peace.

With great respect, your obedient servant. U. S. GRANT.

REPLY OF MR. COLFAX.

Following is the reply of Speaker Colfax to the Committee announcing his nomination by the Chicago Convention:

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 30, 1868.

Hon. J. R. Hawley, President of the National Union Republican Convention:

DEAR SIR: The platform adopted by the patriotic Convention over which you presided, and the resolutions which so happily supplement it, so entirely agree with my views as to a just national policy that my thanks are due to the delegates as much for this clear and auspicious declaration of principles as for the nomination with which I have been honored, and which I gratefully accept. When a great rebellion which imperilled the national existence was at last overthrown, the duty of all others devolving on those entrusted with the responsibilities of legislation, evidently was to require that the revolted States should be re-admitted in the participation of the Government against which they had erred only on such a basis as to increase and fortify, not to weaken and endanger, the strength and power of the nation. Certainly no one ought to have claimed that they should be re-admitted under such rule, that their organization as States could ever again be used as at the opening of the war, to defy the national authority or to destroy the national unity. This principle has been the pole star of those who have inflexibly insisted on the Congressional policy your Convention so cordially endorsed. Baffled by Executive opposition and by persistent refusal to accept any plan of reconstruction proffered by Congress, justice and public safety at last combined to teach us that only by an enlargement of suffrage in those States could the desired end be attained, and that it was even more safe to give the ballot to those who loved the Union than to those who had sought ineffectually to destroy it. The assured success of this legislation is being written on the adamant of history and will be our triumphant vindication. More clearly, too, than ever before does the nation now recognize that the greatest glory of a republic is that it throws the shield of its protection over the humblest and weakest of its people and vindicates the rights of the poor and the powerless as faithfully as those of the rich and the powerful. I rejoice, too, in this connection, to find in your platform the frank and fearless avowal that naturalized citizens must be protected abroad at every hazard as though they were native born. Our whole people are foreigners, or descendants of foreigners. Our fathers established by arms their right to be called a nation. It remains for us to establish the right and welcome to our shores all who are willing by oaths of allegiance to become American citizens. Perpetual allegiance, as claimed abroad, is only another name for perpetual bondage, and would make all slaves to the soil where first they saw the light. Our national cemeteries prove how faithfully these oaths of fidelity to the adopted land have been sealed in the life-blood of thousands upon thousands. Should we not then be faithless to the dead if we did not protect their living brethren in the full enjoyment of that nationality for which side by side with the native born, our soldiers of foreign birth laid down their lives. It was fitting, too, that the representatives of a party which had proved so true to national duty in time of war, should speak so clearly in time of peace for the maintenance, untarnished, of the national honor, national credit and good faith as regards its debt, the cost of our national existence.

I do not need to extend this reply by further comment on a platform which has elicited such hearty approval throughout the land. The debt of gratitude it acknowledges to the brave men who saved the Union from destruction, the frank approval of amnesty based on repentance and loyalty the demand for the most rigid economy and honesty in the government, the sympathy of the party of liberty with all throughout the world who long for the liberty we here enjoy, and the recognition of the sublime principles of the Declaration of Independence are worthy of the organization on whose banners they are to be written in the coming contest. Its past record cannot be blotted out or forgotten. If there had been no Republican party, slavery would to-day cast its baneful shadow over the Republic. If there had been no Republican party, a free press and free speech would be as unknown from the Potomac to the Rio Grand, as ten years ago. If the Republican party could have been stricken from existence when the banner of Rebellion was unfurled, and when the response of "no coercion" was heard at the North, we would have had no nation to-day. But for the Republican party daring to risk the odium of tax and draft laws, our flag could not have been kept flying in the field until the long hoped for victory came. Without a Republican party, the Civil Rights bill, the guarantee of equality under the law, to the defenceless as well as to the strong, would not be to-day upon our national statute book. With such inspiration from the past, and following the example of the founders of the Republic, who called the victorious General of the revolution to preside over the land his triumphs had saved from its enemies, I cannot doubt that our labors will be crowned with success, and it will be a success, that shall bring restored hope, confidence, prosperity and progress, South as well as North, West as well as East, and above all, the blessings under Providence of national concord and peace.

Very truly, yours,
SCHUYLER COLFAX.

The Impeachment Failure—The Feeling at the White House—A Dream and Moral Reflection.

WASHINGTON D. C., May 16 '68.—The happiest hours I hev enjoyed for years passed over me last nite. The failyoor to impeach, filled me with joy inexpressible.

Thank Hevin! Halleloogy! Ef I wuz David I shood restring my harp ef I wuz Miriam I shood order a fresh timbrel, ef I wuz Herodias I shood dance afore the King! For we hev pervailed. Our shepard boy hez met this Goliath uv radicalism, and with wepins wich he took from his pouch hez konkered him. This rapsedy hez reference to impeachment excloosively.

When the vote wuz announced ther wuz the wildest enthoosiasm manifested. The streets wuz immejitly filled with the faithful. Baltimore and the cities further South hed vomitid all over Washinton. Mr. Cobb, no longer in teers, hed returned, the pardon-brokers, whisky spekilater, and those who hed hed difficulties with with courts on akkount uv irregilarities in the currency they manifactured, wuz all here, and joyful. Confedrit Captains, Kernels and Brigadiers forgot their respective ranks and embraced each other in the public streets, the gray coats wich hed seen servis at Antectam and Harper's Ferry made their appearance agin, the drinkin sloons filled up ez ef by magic, in fact, the sceen reminded me very much uv the revival uv the coz on the 22d uv Febrooary, 1868.

At the White House there wuz the most terrific exhilerashun. The President sat smilin serenely, Sekretary Welles (blessins on his frosty pow) wuz ez lively ez the Dunderburg, and Patterson wuz formal. The room wuz crowded with persons eger to congratoolate the President on his success, and every minit congratulatory despatches wuz bein receeved from all parts uv the country uv wich the follerin is samples:

NOO YORK, 19th.

We hev renood hope. The country is safe. We are redekoratin our club room. Portrates uv Fessenden, Chase and Trumbull now adorn our walls between those uv Fernandy Wud, Bookannan and Peerse. The city is jubilant. Hale to the noble eight.

CONCORD, N. H., 19th.

The Dimocrisy of Noo Hampsheer send greetin to Noo Hampsheer's noblest son, Salmon P. Chase. We forgive and welcome him.

F. PEEISE.

NOO ORLEANS, 19th.

The city is ablaze with enthusiasm. My old poleece is now parraden the streets, a cheerin for Chase, Fessenden and Trumbull. Ez I write they are givin nine cheers and a tiger ez they past the spot ni wich Dostie wuz shot. Judge Abell desires me to add his congratulashuns.

MONROE ex-Mayor.

PEORY, Ill., 19th.

The circle which hez a interest in the handlin uv ardent spirits at this place congratulates the President on his triumph over his (and our) enemies. Ther confidence in the integrity of the Senit wuz not misplaced. They consider the money they contributed to bring about this result well spent, and will promptly honor any draft made upon em for means to carry His Eggslency safe through the remainin ten articles. By order of the Circle.

The President promptly anserd this telegram statin that no more money wuz needed to be yoosed for impeachment purposes, ez the contract with Senators kivered the entire eleven articles.

There were others from Morrissey, Vallandingham and others, all breethin the same sperit uv thankfulnes for the result, and all acknowledgin indebtedness to the noble Republikins wich hed brot it about. These come from my old Kentucky home:

Halleloojy! I'll hev my niggers agin! Thank Hevin! My son Josier is even now finding out their wherabouts. The Lord be praised! Hev already subjoogated three uv em. Selah! Bells is ringin and bonfires is blazin. POGRAM.

The Corners congratulates yoo and the President. I commence work to morrer on the enlargement uv my dystillery, wich wuz suspended when the impeachment unpleasantnis wuz begun. All hale! MCPHELTER.

Hale! all hale! Amid the general rejoicin, can't yoo borrer enuff to pay the bill yoo owe me? The Corners is blazin. Two niggers hev bin hung on the public square, and Pollok's store is in a state uv seige. The boys are bound to clean him out this time sure. BASCOM.

Curiers jist in from toards Garretstown. Within ten minits after the news reached em the nigger settlement wuz in a blaze and the two Burrow teachers there wuz reported missin, Glowry enough for Kentucky.

"Why," sed I to Randall, who sat moody and alone, "don't yoo and the President share in the general exileration? He doesn't seem to be the least excited."

"Why shood we, retorted he," "doth the sheppard go into spasms over the sheep he hez safe in his fold? The fact is, our eggscitin time wuz several weeks ago, while we wuz a byin uv em, and arrangin for this. The Black Crook is rather startlin to the beholder front, but to the managers who contracted for the legs at so much a pair and arranged the table, it ain't so startlin."

"Thinkst thou the new programe will result ez the President hopes?"

"No the new party can't succeed, no more than our last vencher did. It ain't made up uv the rite material. There's more intelleck than sole in it—more bowels than heart. There's Chase, Fessenden and Trumbull and Grimes. Chase hez ambition, Grimes hate, and Trumbull and Fessenden dispepsy making the ingregencies in the new organizashun half ambishun and fate and half and half dyspepsia. Never truste a man whose stumick is out uv order—take no stock in him whose bowels is unsound. Intellek is nothin, heart is nothin, onless there's a stumick under them on wich to build. Chase hez no conshunse Trumbull and Fessenden no gastric joose. Sick men alluz fail. Still I'm glad the thing's occurred."

"Ef it amounts to nothin, why glad?"

"Becoz it lets Johnson and me out. When Arnold went back on his countrymen, his countrymen forgot Joodis Iskariot; when Aron Burr ariz they to wunst forgot Arnold; Peerce drove Burr out uv the public mind; Boochanan made em forget Pierce, Johnson made em ferget Bookannon, and Trumbull and Chase will make em forget Johnson and me. Thats what I'm drivin at. Under the stormI shell leeve my quiet Wisconsin home and live in peece, for beside these latter cusses I shell loom up into comparitive respectability. Good nite. All is well."

At a late hour I retired to my vurchus couch, and fallen into the deep sleep wich only visits the pillers uv them whose conshences aint bothered much, uv whom I am wich, ez my conshence sheds conviction uv wrath to come ez a duck does spring rain, I dreemed a most curis dreem.

Methawt the Presidenshel course wuz reel and truly a race course, and the candidates had to run that course, the winner ov the race tu be glorified. At one end uv the track wuz a weighin stand and at the other wuz the White House. The runners wuz to carry the candidate for Vise President and sich other weights ez their backers shood put onto em.

The Republicans hed Grant on the ground promptly and ready for the race. He cum up splendid. He wuz not so mighty immense, but he wuz clean-limbed, decently developt all over and showd first rate in the back and loins. His trainers pulled off his shoulders a few little dead weights wich sum uv his injoodishus backers hed chuct onto him, sposin he cud curry every thing. Wade vaulted onto his shoulders and he wuz reddy.

Our people hed sum difikulty in selectin a man to run agin him. Pendleton wuz trotted out but by Belmont pernounced unfit; McClellan next, but Vorbees objictid. Finally Chase wuz selected tu run the appinted race, and he wuz brot tu the weighin stand. Tu the nakid eye he wuz a splendid specimin, and he came up tu stand so gailiant that notwithstanding he carried in his hand a silver picher wich the niggers uv Cincinnati give him for defendin a foojitive from Kentuky, our people cheered him vociferous. Tall, strong muskerler lookin, in good flesh, deep chested, broad-shooldered, strong bact, he wuz ez perfect a specimen ez I ever beheld and all felt confident that he wood hev no trouble in beatin his opponent out uv site He came up to his stand gorgeous, accompanied by Trumbull, Fessenden, Grimes Johnson and sich, who hed him in tow.

At this pint Vallandygum, Peerse, Vorhees, Morrisy and Wud, who hed charge uv our arrangements, tuk him in hand, "We must prepare our man," sed they.

"Take off this ablishun coat," sed Vorhees.

"And this imparshal suffrage vest," sed Morrisy, "the nigger hezn't the moral qualificashuns fer the ballot.'

"And this, free soil shirt," sed Wud.

"And thet anti-foojitive slave law wig," sed Vorhees.

"And em ekal justis shoulder-braces." sed Peerse:

"And them humantarian pants," shrecked Wud.

"We cant abide none of these things," yelled the crowd. "Pele! pele! All uv these yoo got frum the ablishunists, free soilers an Republikins. We'll none uv em."

The silver picher he carried in his hand they trampled into the mud, and one by one the obnoxious garments wuz pulled off from him. Hevins! wat a change. Ez they wuz removed he shrunk. When the coat wuz taken off he wuzn't so broad and massive; when the vest wuz gone he wuz positively flat chested; when the shoulder braces wuz removed he become hump backed; and when the pants wuz snaked off he stood afore us the merest skeleton I ever beheld—a weak, slaky wheezin skeleton. Our folks looked disappointed, but it wuz too late tu change. A loose two-sided wrapper was thrown over him, Governor English climed onto his shoulders, Vallandygum jumped into one pocket and Fernandy Wud into the tother, the brass band tooted, the crowd yelled, he made one convulsive start, but in vain. The stiffnin wuz all out of him. His poor week knees gave way, his back doubled up and he came to the ground every bone in him rattlin ez he fell, while Grant made the race serenely.

"My God," sed Morrisy, lukin at the poor wretch, "what he got from the ablishunists wuz all ther wuz uv him after all."

At this pint I wuz a wakened and wuz saddened. There's where our trouble lies. We hev to strip these fellows when they cum tu us uv all that gives em any strength. Chase without his ablishunism can't get a ablishun vote, and the Dimocrisy will vote for ther own men in preference. Names aint worth a d—n any more, and men without principles aint uv the slightest akkount. And that's what's the matter with Dimocrisy.—Toledo Blade.

A QUESTION ANSWERED.

Somebody inquires why, when Eve was manufactured from a spare rib, a servant wasn't made at the same time to wait on her. Somebody else—a woman, we imagine—replies in the following strain: "Because Adam never came whining to Eve with a ragged stocking to be darned, collar strings to be sewed on, or a glove to mend 'right away, quick, now!' Because he never read the newspaper until the sun got down behind the palm trees, and he stretching out, yawned out, 'Ain't supper most ready, my dear?' Not he. He made the fire and hung the kettle over it himself, we'll venture; and pulled the radishes, peeled the potatoes and did everything else he ought to do. He milked the cows, fed the chickens, and looked after the pigs himself, and never brought home a half dozen friends to dinner when Eve hadn't any fresh pomegranates. The mango season was over. He never staid out to ward meetings, hurrahing for an out-an-out candidate, and then scolding because poor Eve was sitting up and crying inside the gates. He never played billiards, rolled ten pins, and drove fast horses, nor choked with cigar smoke.—He never loafed around corner groceries while Eve was rocking little Cain's cradle at home.

In short, he didn't think she was especially created for the purpose of waiting on him, and wasn't under the impression that it disgraced a man to lighten a wife's cares a little. That's the reason that Eve did not need a hired girl, and with it was the reasons that her fair descendants did.

THERE is a young Prussian violinist who executes difficult compositions without arms, of which members the artist is utterly deprived by nature. He places his violin on a stool before him, takes the pow between the toes of his left foot, and presses the strings with the toes of his right. GOODNESS of heart is man's best treasure, his brightest honor, and wisest acquisition. It is a ray of divinity that dignifies humanity, attracts admiration, and assimilates him to his Creator, but, like pure gold, is liable to be counterfeited.

THE FIFTEENTH PRESIDENT.

We announce this morning the death of a distinguished citizen and a native of Pennsylvania—JAMES BUCHANAN, who was the XVth President of the United States, born in Franklin county, April 22d, 1791, died June 1st, at his residence near Lancaster. He had been for some months an invalid, but, latterly, hoped that he might regain as much health as is naturally permitted to seventy-seven years of age. These hopes were not realized; he experienced a relapse, sank rapidly and passed away at an early hour yesterday morning, retaining conciousness to almost his latest moments.

The deceased was during a long and conspicuous career actively and influentially identified with the political events and the public interests of his State and of the nation. Called to the bar in his 22d year; he speedily acquired reputation, and in his 24th year entered upon public life as a member of the State Legislature. In 1820 he was chosen a representative in Congress, remaining therein ten years. In 1831, he was sent by President Jackson as Minister to Rus ia, and negotiated an important commercial treaty with that power. In 1833, returning home, he was elected to the United States Senate, serving twelve years. In 1845 he became Secretary of State under Mr. Polk, and negotiated a settlement of the Oregon boundary question, having aided in its consummation by the advice of the Senate. Retiring from the Cabinet in 1849 he remained in private life until appointed by President Pierce in 1863 Minister to England, in which capacity his participation in the celebrated Ostend Conference meeting of our Ministers at European Courts to discuss the propriety of the proposed acquisition of Cuba, —was the most prominent event of his mission. Returning home in 1856, he was selected as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. His election, the four years of his administration and his retirement at its end from public life, are matters familiarly in the memory of our readers.

A Federalist in the outset of his political career, he became a Democrat of the strictest sect, and lived long enough to witness the complete final triumph of the Federalism which he had labored for fifty years to overthrow. More consistent in other respects, he survived to behold the absolute and perpetual extinguishment of the institution of slavery which he had from the earliest years defended as an essential element in our political privileges enjoyed by the Southern States, and as uniformly, and with even more ability and zeal, an opponent of the Northern agitation of the high question of Liberty for all men, he looked out from the retirement of age to behold the sectionalism which he had denounced at the North, arraying itself at the South in arms against the Union, and at last conquered into obedience, its special privileges obliterated, and that Northern agitation which he had deplored ripening into the Constitutional mastery of the destinies of the Republic. Entering upon the Chief Magistracy in 1857, at a period of more than ordinary political repose—Kansas furnishing the only vexed questions of our politics—he found the country quiet, prosperous and as firmly united as the essential contradictions then embodied in its Constitution could admit. He retired at the end of four years after from a great trust which he had so administered as to bring the Republic to the utmost verge of a fatal ruin. As politician and statesman he had, in all her public career, aimed at the pacification of sectional questions in our domestic politics, and he lived to witness under his own Executive administration, the inevitable culmination of that policy which he had denounced, in the most sanguinary and critical rebellion ever known to a civilized people. And the pacification which he had desired came at last, not as the fruits of his policy, but in spite of it, the naturally matured and victorious issue of the GOD-given instincts of a free people.

Charged by his country with foreign trust, he was moderately successful, and a fortunate diplomist rather than as a great statesman. With the brief intervals of such employments abroad his career of nearly fifty years in our domestic politics, however, it may have seemed at times to be marked by temporary partizan triumphs, will be recorded in the history of the Republic as a career of mistakes, and of failures, crowned finally by the most fatal proof of his incapability to comprehend and be faithful to the dominant spirit of our constitutions. How fatal those proofs were near to becoming, not only to his reputation as a Chief Magistrate, but to the national honor, to the life of the Union, to the continued existence of the Republic itself, we do not deem it needful to specify now. The faults of that system of political ideas of which Mr. Buchanan was peculiarly an exponent have been atoned for at a fearful cost of blood and suffering.

We have spoken of Mr. Buchanan as a public man. There is little else to be said of him. Living single, he leaves no family behind him, and it is only as a public man, and by the historian that his memory will be preserved.—Pitts. Gazette.

WHY NOT ORGANIZING?

The above question from an exchange is equally pertinent in this locality. We have frequently been called upon of late to answer the question why the Republican County Committee are not at work organizing the party for the great battle which is approaching. We would like to be able to answer the question, but have not received sufficient information from the Committee to justify us in so doing. We are fully impressed with the importance of immediate and thorough organization of the party as any one in the county, but at the same time are as much required to await the Committee's action as any other member of the party who is not a member of the Committee. We believe with the masses of the party that organization should be effected at once, and that it is the duty of the County Committee to superintend the same. Committees are simply ridiculous appendages to a party if the only duty they regard themselves appointed to perform is to call a Convention once or twice a year. The Republicans of this county want—demand—organization. Will their County Committee, appointed to inaugurate and superintend the same, proceed to action? Organization must be had, and that quickly.

THE managers investigating committee will report this week on the charge of bribery in the impeachment business. Great difficulty has been experienced in getting witnesses to answer a summons. As a general thing they are taken "suddenly ill," and send a surgeon's certificate of disability instead of appearing personally. Oh! the gentle "Democracy!" who love rum and office but get most of the former.

ON Monday of last week a special election was held in the Athens and Gallia Judicial district in Ohio, for an additional Judge, and the Republican candidate had a majority of 1,816, being a gain of 227 on the vote of October last. The four counties of this district give about 20,000 votes, quite as many as the entire State of Oregon. This is another wave of the re-re-action that has set in since last fall election. Cops must stand from under!

ATTENTION is directed to our column of Washington news on this page. The lamb-like demonstrations of the "Democracy" and their subsequent revulsion of feeling over the election in the District is indicative of the riotous spirit quelled once at New York, once at Appomattox, but twice victorious at Memphis and New Orleans. Read and "look to your hearths!"

THE STATE FAIR.

The question of the location and time for holding the next State Eair has been decided. It will be held at Harrisburg from September 29th to October 2nd—A plot of ground sixty-five acres in extent has been selected and buildings will be erected by the middle of September.

IN the convention of the 23d Congressional District, held at Pittsburgh on the 2d inst., Gen. Negley was nominated by acclamation. Mr. Howard having withdrawn before a ballot. Hon. Thomas Williams was nominated unanimously in the 23d District convention, held on the same day.

THE PITTSBURGH POST ON GENERAL GRANT.

THE DUTY OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IN A CERTAIN EVENT.

Suppose that contrary to the wish of some of the leading Radical Black Republicans, who want the office themselves, General Grant should be nominated for the Presidency by the Republican party, what course ought the Democratic party to pursue? Ought we to nominate a man in opposition to General Grant? Ought we to charge him with being an enemy to his country, or in favor of unjust measures merely because he may have received said nomination?

We are inclined to believe that more depends upon General Grant now, than upon any other individual in the United States. We believe him to be far superior to the majority of the far sighted politicians who have been ruling the nation without bringing peace or economy to our legislation. He is known to the people as A STRAIGHT-FORWARD MAN, and so far as can be judged a man well disposed to deal fairly with the people of all sections of the Union. Certainly if such a man were nominated by the Democratic party, we would advocate his election in the hope that his election would conduce to the public welfare. The question is, then, if he is nominated by the Republican party, whether we shall as a party oppose his election?

* * * * *

In the first place, if the people generally believe Gen. Grant to be the man we think he is, no individual in the United States could command a corporal's guard of votes against him —ON ANY PLEA WHATEVER. In the second place, it would be unjust and very injurious action for our Democratic leaders to attempt to place the Democratic party in a false position before the world, representing them as enemies or opponents of Gen. Grant.

What better thing can we do in case of General Grant's nomination by the Republican party than to VOTE FOR HIM FOR THE PRESIDENCY? Our aim should be to strengthen his hands; to render him as much as possible independent of party and to ELECT HIM AS THE PRESIDENT OF THE PEOPLE. If unanimously, so much the better.

We solemnly believe that if the people generally of the United States can come together with real unanimity on General Grant, in regard to the Presidency, IT WILL BE THE HAPPIEST THING FOR OUR COUNTRY THAT COULD POSSIBLY OCCUR. The future good effects of this course are almost incalculable. We earnestly ask our Democratic friends everywhere to consider this subject carefully.

THE CHASE MOVEMENT.

A late dispatch says, a number of Pennsylvania politicians are now in Washington prospecting for the nomination of Chief Justice Chase. As part of the movement, the following circular calling a meeting of the friends in Philadelphia is interesting:

PHILADELPHIA, May 28, 1868.—Dear Sir:—You are hereby respectfully requested to meet a few of the friends of Chief Justice Chase on the tenth of June, 1868, at noon, at the Continental Hotel, in this city, for the purpose of taking into consideration the propriety of presenting his name as a candidate for President of the United States.

Very respectfully, [Signed.] John Welch, Wm. F. Johnston, John W. Frazier.

Messrs. Welch and Frazier who signed this letter are the parties to whom the Chief Justice recently, as they report, said he was in the hands of his friends. They and Mr. Johnson are members of the great Democratic club of Philadelphia, of which the latter is President.

There are worse men than the Chief Justice and none stronger aspiring for the Democratic nomination, but he nor "any other man" has business in the field against Grant.

Lawrence County Republican Nominations.

The Republican County Convention was held on the 2d inst. The Convention was large and the proceedings passed off harmoniously. The following ticket was put in nomination:

State Senate—Samuel McKinley, Esq.
Assembly—John Edwards, Esq.
Commissioner—Alex. Carpenter.
District Attorney—Colonel Oscar L. Jackson.
Auditor—James Stewart.

Senatorial Conferees—Jno. L. Hays, Jacob Haus and D. W. Aiken.

BEAVER COUNTY.

The Republican Convention of Beaver Co. has made the following nomination:

Congress—Michael Weyand.
Assembly—Thos. Nicholson.
Dist. Attorney—J. R. Harrah.
Dr. A. J. Shallenberger, Samuel Magan and Henry Hice were appointed Congressional Conferees.
The convention decided in favor of the popular vote system for nominating Candidates.

FURTHER details of the storming of Magdala show that the brunt was borne by Irish soldiers. They were, as in the Peninsular war, foremost, and as Wellington said of them, "bravest of the brave."—Ex.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Result of the Municipal Elections—The Republicans Victorious—The Returned Rebels, the Copperheads, and the Whisky Ring completely consternated.

WASHINGTON, June 2, 1868.—The election of Sayles J. Bowen, the Radical candidate for Mayor, has completely consternated the returned rebels, the Copperheads, and the whisky ring; and the way the news was finally ascertained was a caution to the confidence men of the Democracy. Nearly all last night they made the town hideous with their yells of victory. Tremendous exertions had been made to defeat Bowen. The whole power of the Administration was put forth, and great sums of money were expended. The registers appointed by the Republican court of the District all turned against Bowen, and chopped off hundreds of Republicans from the registry. The regular soldiers of the 12th Regiment, Colonel Wallace commanding, were duly voted for the rebel ticket, in direct violation of law; and as usual the Irish citizens were rallied in a body for Given, the Democratic candidate, an old "Know-Nothing" politician. About 11 o'clock Bowen was counted out, and then began a scene of rare devilitry. It seemed as if the very fiends had been let loose, and nobody could tell who the beauties were. It did not need the constant playing of "Dixie" to show that most of them had served in the rebel army. They visited and insulted the Republican Senators, threatened the Chronicle office, and acted generally like demons. Their candidate, Mr. Given, made a fiery Copperhead speech; but at 1 o'clock A. M. the scene was changed, and this morning Bowen is elected by 74. The presence of a large number of Republicans and a strong police force, no doubt prevented the Chronicle office from being gutted. Nothing can surpass the chagrin of the rebels, especially since Bowen is known to have been elected notwithstanding their great expense to defeat him. Their violent and vulgar rejoicing have a comical side since the light of another day has shone forth. Undoubtedly the courts will decide that the regular soldiers had no right to vote. This will give the Republicans complete control of the city government.

Great enthusiasm prevails to-night among the Republicans here. During the evening from five to ten thousand persons gathered about the Chronicle office. The building was brilliantly illuminated.

In response to the loud and repeated calls of immense assemblage, Colonel Forney delivered an address of about half an hour's length. He spoke amid the most hearty and tumultuous cheers.

No such demonstration has ever been witnessed in the national capital. After the speech the throng formed into a procession and visited the Mayor elect, who spoke to them in his own brief style.

They then proceeded to the residences of several Congressional friends and paid their respects.

The colored participants had displayed on their hats the full Republican ticket, on which was also printed the American flag. They marched in platoons of four abreast, and the procession extended several squares in length.

WASHINGTON, June 2, 1868.—The excitement occasioned by the election yesterday was greatly increased this morning by the conflicting statements published in the papers regarding the result. The Copperheads claimed the election of their candidate, Mr. Given, by a small majority, and last night, or rather until an early hour this morning, no one disputed it. They built bonfires, fired salutes, serenaded their candidate, in response to which he made a speech foreshad owing the policy of his administration, and altogether enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent under the belief that they had succeeded. The Republican voters, with a few exceptions, particularly the colored men, vacated the streets early at night, and gave their opponents full sway. An immense mass meeting assembled in front of the City Hall, at which cheers for Jeff Davis and Andrew Johnson were frequently given, and the returned rebel soldiery of the District apparently had complete control. Bricks and stones were thrown and pistols fired at the statue of Mr. Lincoln, which stands in front of the City Hall, and his memory was insulted in many ways. Only rebels and their pro-slavery admirers would insult it. Processions paraded the streets, halting in front of the residences of prominent Radical Congressmen to cheer for Johnson, Davis and Given, and to groan for Congress and the Radicals. The city, in fact, was rife for a bloody riot, and the absence of colored men from the streets was the only thing that prevented a terrible outbreak. It was not until half-past two or three o'clock this morning that the returns from all of the thirty-five precincts were received and made public, and even then the boisterous crowds of rebels and Copperheads refused to believe them, but continued their noisy demonstrations until daybreak. In front of the Chronicle office, and particularly in front of Senator Wade's residence, they assembled more frequently than at any other point except their own headquarters. The police authorities were obliged to send special details to these points, and by the most vigilant exertion probably saved the Chronicle office from being gutted. This morning the news rapidly spread that Bowen, the Radical candidate, was elected by a small majority. The chagrin of the riotous Conservatives can be easier imagined than described. Their candidate had made his speech thanking them for their successful labors, and they had in the enthusiasm of supposed victory exposed their true sentiments of admiration and respect for Andy Johnson, Jeff Davis and other traitors, and the revolution came so suddenly that they were taken back aghast and breathless. The official count shows that Bowen, the Radical candidate for Mayor, received seventy-four majority. The Conservatives have carried four wards of the city, giving them the majority in the lower board of the City Councils, but in the upper board, in consequence of Republican aldermen holding over, there will be a tie—that is if the colored aldermen elected from the First ward are held to be eligible. The act of Congress recently passed, extending the charter, does not really make the colored citizen eligible to a seat in the City Councils, though it qualifies him for any office in the appointment of the Mayor and Councils. The second section of this act provides that no person shall be regarded as incompetent to hold any non-elective office, or be disqualified therefrom, who is a qualified elector in this district. It is held, however, by the Republicans that the point in question is covered by Mr. Sumner's bill striking out the word "white" from the charter. The question has never been decided by the Senate whether this latter bill became a law or not, and it is now before the Judiciary Committee. Mr. Trumbull, it is said, is prepared to report favorably upon the construction that it is a law, and should he do so, the colored men elected to the Council from the First ward will probably secure their seats. The question to be settled regarding this law arises from the fact that the President did not approve or veto it during the ten days allowed by the Constitution for Executive consideration, and that the ten days expired during a recess of both houses. To-night the Republicans are celebrating their hard earned victory with double gusto and most intense enthusiasm. They have serenaded Mr. Bowen and both the Chronicle and Republican offices; in short, instead of cheers for Jeff Davis and Johnson, the city re-echoes again and again with the applause of Congress and its Radical friends. The total vote polled was 20,634—about four thousand more than at any previous election in the city. It is understood that the Republicans propose to contest the election in the Fifth ward, on the ground that soldiers' and sailors' votes, some one hundred and fifty in all, were illegally received. It is stated, also, that the election of Mr. Bowen will be contested by the Conservatives, on the ground of illegal votes cast for him.

To-day Mr. Edmunds introduced the following joint resolution, which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary:

Resolved, That the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Texas, respectively, shall not be entitled to representation in the Electoral College for the choice of President or Vice President of the United States, and no electoral votes shall be received or counted from any of such respective States unless at the time prescribed by law for the choice of electors the people of such State shall, pursuant to the acts of Congress in that behalf, have, since the 8th day of March, 1867, adopted a constitution of State government under which a State government shall have been organized and shall be in peaceful operation, and such State shall also have become entitled to representation in Congress pursuant to the acts of Congress in that behalf.

The sub committees of the National Republican Committee, having in charge the supervision of the Presidential campaign in the Eastern States, met to-day, Messrs. Claffin of Massachusetts, Greeley of New York, Starkweather of Connecticut, and Chandler, of New Hampshire being present. Without accomplishing any definite result, they adjourned to meet in New York on the 19th inst.

The vote which nominated Henry Stanberry to the Attorney General and was rejected in the executive session of the Senate this afternoon stood: For confirmation, 11, including Senators Henderson, Ross, Fowler and Sherman; against confirmation, 29, all Republican.

There is a disposition on the part of a large number of members of Congress to adjourn about the first of July, in order that they may actively enter on the Presidential canvass.

Democrats and Preachers.

The Warsaw Indianian says: The Democratic papers in this part of the country have much to say apout the preachers, and one or two of them growled considerably about the fact in the conference that was recently held here there was not a single minister among them who belonged to the Copperhead party. While we are willing to acknowledge that this speaks well for the ministers, it is equally certain that it has a bad look for modern Democracy, and the fact that out of one hundred and fifty ministers present, not a Copperhead could be found, most conclusively proves the proposition. Taking this fact into consideration, it is no wonder that Copperhead prints indulge in an attack, upon the ministers in attendance at the conference. It certainly can do no great harm, however, to the cause of Christianity while these editors are only instruments in fulfilling the prophecy of Scripture. We therefore, hope our ministers will bear their gibes meekly, remembering the injunction that, "Blessed are they who tre persecuted for righteousness sake."

OUR candidates for President and Vice President are very nearly of the same age, and may be regarded as in the prime of intellectual and physical manhood. Grant was forty-six on the twenty-seventh of April last, and Colfax forty-five on the twenty-third of March last.

PROTECTION AS VIEWED BY A FREE TRADER.

To the Editor of The Tribune.

SIR: You never seem to tire nor end on the question of Protection, and yet you fail to convince any one that your theory is for the best interests of the country; and what may seem strange is that the men to whom you say most—the workingmen—have the least faith in your preaching. One of the immediate effects of a high tariff is to keep up the price of labor which is more than four times as high in this county as it will average in Europe.

I am for unqualified Free Trade. I would sell out the Custom-Houses, discharge the leeches that swarm around them, and allow people to sell and buy products and goods whenever they found it for their interest to do so. This will bring us to a true and normal condition.

I see clearly what the immediate effect would be. Commercial disturbance would be the natural result, for it would be a great and radical change. We should be on an entirely new foundation. The first effect would be to stop manufacturing here, and the country would be filled with foreign goods, many of which Europe would never see her money for. A commercial revulsion would be out of employment and the price of labor would come down, down, down, until it touched the European Standard, and then success is secured. All that is necessary in this country, with the marvelous skill and wealth which we possess, to compete successfully with the foreign manufacture, is low wages. The writer of this once manufactured goods in Brussels (Belgium), where he procured the services of the best mechanics for less than 30 cents per day and good workmen for 18¾ cents.

Free trade would certainly work this result; and then we could manufacture goods for the whole world. Gold would flow into our coffers from every land like a river. We should soon be rich and independent, defying the world commercially as we now may physically. When will you rid yourself of your narrow and contracted views of trade, and preach the pure gospel of commercial liberty as you now do political?

Yours respectfully,
CHARLES SIMMONS.

NEW-YORK, May 30, '68.

The Tribune's Reply.

1. It is quite probable that, if skilled labor could be had here in abundance for 30 cents and good workmen for 18¾ cents per day, we could manufacture more than we now do, though we should still come far short of supplying "the whole world." But we could not so depress the wages of part of the labor of our people without substantially reducing the price of all the labor in the country. And we do not believe it wise or well to reduce the wages of labor to any such extent. We know that the 18¾ to 30 cents per day would buy nothing like such a large aggregate of the necessaries and comforts of life as the present wages of our Working Classes secure them. We should have cheaper garments, cheaper food (that is, at lower money prices) than now; but it would take a great deal more hard work to buy them. And—the Laboring Class being substantially the Voting Class—they would not long stand it, but would insist on going back to better wages and better times.

2. We do not believe there is any real advantage in buying goods of Europe, breaking and doing her out of the pay for them. We hold to buying less, but paying for all we get.

3. It seems odd that those who insist on the beneficence of Free Trade are very apt to run from where it is to where it is not. Our correspondent says we should all get rich here if his policy was in vogue; but why didn't he get rich in Belgium and stay there? Why doesn't he go there now and manufacture, instead of staying here to grumble?

4. He says that the Working Men have no faith in our Tariff views. That remains to be proved. We argued the question in Harry Clay times and always carried with us a majority of those Working men who could read. The other sort were impervious to our arguments; but we do not despair even of them. Just wait till Reconstruction is is finished, and we are ready to try conclusions with you on Protection.

HENRY WARD BEECHER, in his sermon last Sunday, said: "Repudiation is wrong, and every whisper countenancing it is from the devil. If all the nations of the earth were to speak across the sea in its favor, and the great ocean itself should thunder out amen, repudiation would still be wrong." This may be called "political preaching," but it is in accordance with Gospel teaching and Christain principles, nevertheless.

THE New York Citizen (Dem.) says: "Schuyler Colfax is probably the only public man of any note who has not a single personal enemy. It is to this fact that he chiefly owes his nomination. He was the strongest candidate for the Vice Presidency at Chicago, not because he had rendered better service to the party than any of his rivals, but because he was personally obnoxious to no one."

THE Pennsylvania State Convention of Universalists will be held in Pittsburgh, commencing on Wednesday of this week. Rev. C. L. Shipman, of Girard, will preach the opening sermon.

FIFTEEN cent notes have been lately turned out by the Treasury Department.

600 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC

RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. Sixty miles of the track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this at the earliest possible day, will be done.

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,000 acre of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is an absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and NO MORE. THE GOVERNMENT PERMITS the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy Trail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, car-shops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through traffic that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove the

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

upon such property, costing nearly three times their amount,

ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

The Company have abundant means in their treasury, and make no appeal to the public to purchase their Bonds, as the daily subscriptions are entirely satisfactory; but they submit that, for entire security and liberal returns, there is certainly no better investment in the market.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. At the present rate of gold, these bonds pay an annual income on their cost of

NEARLY NINE PER CENT.,

AND IT IS BELIEVED THAT THEY WILL SOON BE AT A PREMIUM.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price of their bonds to a rate above par at any time, and will not fill any orders or receive any subscriptions on which the money has not been actually paid at the Company's office before the time of such advance.

Parties subscribing will remit the par value of the bonds and the accrued interest in currency at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date on which the last coupon was paid. Subscriptions will be received in Waynesburg, Pa., BY THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

Circus and Menagerie.

THE MAMMOTH CIRCUS

AND

MENAGERIE OF TRAINED ANIMALS

Will Exhibit in WAYNESBURG for one day, on SATURDAY, JUNE 13, 1868.

HEMMINGS, COOPER AND WHITBY'S

AMERICAN CIRCUS.

Great American Exposition Circus and Trained Animals.

OPENING OF THE GREAT CAMPAIGN.

The Grandest Spectacle of American Enterprise Ever Presented!

Institution Two Entire Years Perfecting its Organization!

Resources of both Hemispheres brought into Requisition!

Trained Animals from every Quarter of the Globe!

Equestrian, Gymnastic, Aerobatic Talent Selected from the Highest Schools of Art!

Exhibiting all the Refinements of Athletic Culture, under the Direction of the Most Accomplished Masters of the Age!

The Great American Exposition Floats Everywhere upon the Gale of Popular Favor.

It has no Rival on Either Continent!

In the Living Tableau which leads the Grand Procession in Town on the day of Exhibition, a full description of which will be found in the bills, is a young and beautifully formed full sized AFRICAN LION, uncaged, and surrounded by the groupe of Ladies forming the Tableau, under the perfect control of Madame Du Nord, the Lion Queen.

THE TRAINED ANIMAL STOCK!

Conspicuous among the attractions offered in the Trained Animal Department, is the Diminutive and Intelectual

FAIRY ELEPHANT TITANIA!

The Smallest, Handsomest and most Docile of her species. The little elephant will be exercised in a variety of curious and sagacious feats, by her juvenile instructress Miss SUSIE WHITBY.

THREE BEAUTIFUL AFRICAN LIONS!

Taken from their native wilds while quite young, and thoroughly trained in all those terrific feats and exercises, by the renowned

LION QUEEN, MADAME DU NORD!

This lady will enter the den of these majestic and formidable creatures, where, with a glance of her courageous eye, or a motion of hand, she holds them in perfect subjection, charmed and spell-bound; causing them to perform a variety of appalling gymnastics, with the utmost confidence and security. These splendid Lions were recently purchased at the Jardines des Plants, Paris, at an enormous cost, and form one of the most interesting features contained in this Trained Animal Exhibition.

THE MANEGE HORSES!

PERFORMING PONIES!

Mrs. HEMMINGS and Mr. H. WHITBY, are at the head of this interesting department. Among the treasures of the Manege is the celebrated trotting horse HAWKEYE STATE, taught by H. Whitby and the admirably instructed trick pony BUTTERFLY; Mrs. Hemmings' superb filly, CLEOPATRA; the great steeple chaser CHAMPION. Besides a beautiful stock supplementary to the foregoing, all trained to perform those beautiful and difficult exercises in waltzing, dancing, marching, forming attitudes, and other wonderful feats of sagacity and high training. Most of these horses and ponies have been selected from the first maneges of Europe—some even claiming their pedigree from the Royal mews of England, and the imperial stable of St. Petersburgh.

THE TRAINED HYBRIDS!

The curiously taught mules BOZ and BUNSBY, will be put through a course of antics by the clowns. Among the collection of hybrids here exhibited are two of the smallest specimens of the mule species ever seen. They have recently arrived here from Chili and Peru. Another curiosity of the mule kind is the jumping hybrid, SAM PATCH, who vaults over a whole troop of other mules and ponies without the smallest effort.

THE SHETLAND PONIES AND THEIR MONKEY RIDERS.

A regular mimic steeple-chase will be introduced, costumed and apparelled in full jocky style in which the exciting sports of hurdle-jumping, and five bar leaping will be performed by the troop of Ponies, mounted by their Monkey riders in full cry.

MATCH FOR THE CUP!

TOM THUMB, the smallest equestrian living, and Miss SUSIE WHITBY, will compete on their Dwarf Ponies for the Prize Cup, in a Lilliputian Race.

☞ No animal attached to the "American Exposition" will be placed upon exhibition, that has not been thoroughly trained to take some part in the exercises—there is no useless stock carried about to encumber the exhibition, or annoy the spectators.

THE GYMNASTIC CORPS!

Headed by Messrs. Miller, Theodore and Whittoney, the TROUPE OF CLOWNS!

Led by John Foster, Whittoney and King.

The following list comprises the principal performers belonging to this Company:

CROP PROSPECTS.

Last week, along the seaboard, the sun shone during one day and a part of another; the rest of the time the weather was misty, but there were no heavy showers. A good deal of sod was turned for corn, for fear that [redacted] country, and, in effect, add a month to the growing season. The fruit prospects of the West are not encouraging. Strawberries are expected to be in small supply, and dear.

From the Southern States we have favorable accounts. Wheat looks well, fruit is likely to be abundant, cotton has a good start, the negroes are doing better than last year, and the people generally confess that Reconstruction is to be accomplished more through work than politics. On the whole, the promise of abundant harvests never was brighter. It is true that averse conditions may arise, but sufficient for the day is the evil thereof. Duty and hope belong to the present. At the lowest estimate, the present golden sunshine is worth a million dollars an hour.—N. Y. Tribune.

WEST VIRGINIA REPUBLICAN TICKET.

The West Virginia Republican Convention met at Clarksburg, on Thursday, and was largely attended, four hundred delegates being present. The following ticket was nominated:

Electors at Large—A. W. Campbell, of Ohio, R. S. Brown, of Jackson.

District Electors—First District, General N. Goff; Second District, J. M. Hagans; Third District, W. H. Powell.

Governor—W. E. Stevenson, of Wood.

Auditor—Thomas Bogges, of Roane.

Attorney Gen.—Thayer Melvin, of Brooke.

Treasurer—J. A. McCauley, of Ohio.

Secretary of State—J. M. Pipes, of Marshall.

For Congress—First District, I. H. Duval, of Brooke; Second District, Jas. C. McGrew, of Preston; Third District, postponed until the 4th inst.

Resolutions were adopted indorsing the Chicago nominations and platform, pledging the support of the party to Governor Boreman for any position in which he may desire to serve them, and demanding economy and retrenchment in public affairs.

POLITICAL and personal corruptions have won the impeachment game, trumping in at the right moment to take the odd trick but Edwin M. Stanton carries off all the honors. He has done his whole duty, consistently and honorably. Relinquishing the War Office as soon as the treachery of false friends had completed its work, the brevity of his official notification of retirement is quite long enough to comprehend the whole shameful story of the nation's betrayal. Assigning for the reason of his withdrawal a simple statement of the Senate's failure to support logically and properly its own formal vote of February 21st, he writes a complete history in his own vindication, and to the everlasting dishonor of the recreants.—Pittsburgh Gazette.

SOMEBODY has published the terrible mysteries of the Ku Klux Klan. "A Full Expose of the Forms, Objects and "Dens" of the Secret Order; from the Confession of a Member. We can hardly believe that men of any age can be found who will be taken by the following nonsense, said to be a refrain of the Klan:

"Bolli ku hubbi-ku,
Helli ku hot,
Bolli-ku, negri-ku,
Devila pot.
Boil black blood
Of big block man,
Drin-ku hottu blood—
Ku Klux Klan."

Bah!

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 2, '68.

The official vote elects Bowen, Republican, Mayor by 74 majority. The Council on joint ballot shows a Conservative majority of 3.

The Senate, this afternoon, after debate, rejected the nomination of Hon. Henry Stanberry as Attorney General. It is understood his re-appointment to that office was opposed by Senators principally on the ground of his hostilities to the Reconstruction acts.

GEN. BEN. BUTLER has been accused of a great many crimes. There are as many persons who believe that he stole spoons in Louisiana, as believe Nasby to be a veritable Postmaster; and it is a fact that the Postmaster General gets letters every week, asking why such a fool as Nasby is allowed to remain in office, and bring the Democratic party into ridicule and disrepute.

THE paper-hangers and paper-makers are much excited just now with news of the invention of gutta percha paper which, for durability and imperviousness, surpasses all previous attempts at fabrication of a damp-resisting medium. It is to be prepared for paper-hanging, and will very shortly be in the market.

EX-GOV. SEYMOUR denies that he is in favor of the nomination of Chase by the Democrats He favors McClellan first and Pendleton second, unless some new and more popular candidate can be selected.

REPORTS from the grain crops of California are remarkably favorable. A rain storm Monday may do some damage to the hay, ☞Bounty Tax Report—Washington township Auditors.

☞A Standard Work—J. B. Burr & Co.
☞Painting and Glazing—J. W. Smalley.

A CROWD.—Court week has brought a large number of our farmers in.

"BIG JUNE."—Sunday next is the recurrence of the big meeting on Ruffs Creek. It will be largely attended from here.

FOR CONGRESS.—Col. Wm. Hopkins, of Washington county, is announced as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress from this District.

THE FLAG.—A beautiful stand of American colors, called by "Democrats" a "flaunting lie," waves from the Central Grant Club rooms. This organization opens the campaign actively.

HOT ain't it? Old Sol has finally succeeded in dispelling the long continued rain and cold, and is now making the "yarbs" come forth and giving things a general warming up. Fans and ices will be in demand "show-day"

STRAWBERRIES have made their appearance in the market in limited quantities and at high rates. Why are no more raised? They well repay the use of a corner in every garden. They're too good to talk about.

THE Central Grant Club held quite an enthusiastic meeting at their new room last Tuesday evening. Each one showing a feeling of the importance of the cause and a determination to labor for its success. Let all be up and doing.

THE Conservative (Confederate) Soldiers'(?) Convention that was to be last Saturday was not for the reason there is not a corporal's guard of them in the county. For decency sake they ought to keep still after being swamped in '66, and this last call proving an utter fizzle.

ENTERTAINMENT.—An Exhibition will be given by the Juvenile Mite Society, at the College Chapel, on Thursday evening June 11, 1868. Performance to consist of speeches, Dialogues, Tableaux and Music. Proceeds to be applied to the purchase of a bell for the new C. P. Church, to be erected in Waynesburg.

A NEW sensation has been created in Waynesburg by the arrival of Frank McGurgan's new stock. His styles are rich, rare and racy. His stock of fancy goods and trimmings are superior, if possible, to any of his previous selections in point of durability, cheapness and beauty of style.

CROQUET has arrived among us at last. Its a fine out-door game in which both ladies and gentlemen can engage and we hope to see it well introduced this season. Nothing adds more healthiness than plenty of exercise in the open air. And as our ladies have no outdoor amusement in which to indulge, we advise them all to learn Croquet.

LAST Thursday witnessed the introduction of the latest improvement to our town, in the shape of a street sprinkler, but we have no idea of its being under the control of the City Fathers as it seemed to be gotten up regardless of expense; the horses travelling too fast, and the liquid being "lasses" and not well distributed. Some one suggested it was to make men stick to their party. Why? Any danger of Greene going for Grant?

DONATION.—The undersigned tender their cordial thanks to the members of the Waynesburg Presbyterian Church and Congregation and other kind friends, for a liberal donation made on the 25th day of April 1868. They regret their inability to meet the obligations laid on them by the above, and many other manifestations of friendship and kindness showed to them during their stay in Waynesburg.

JAMES SLOAN.
M. G. SLOAN.

EDUCATIONAL.—The committee on Permanent State Certificates, elected at the Teacher's County Institute of last January, will hold its session for the examination of applicants, at at Waynesburg, Pa., on Saturday June 13th, 1868. The Committee and all teachers wishing to be examined, will please arrive as early as noon on the day stated, so that examination may commence at 1 o'clock, P. M.

J. JACKSON PURMAN,
Sec'y. of Com.

MAN KILLED.—The Monongahela Republican (Wash. Co.,) of the 4th says: A man named John Mixon, of Allen township was found dead in the woods, on Saturday last, by a colored man who was driving his wagon through for wood. From the circumstances under which the body was found, it is apparent that he met his death from a limb which being caught by a tree just felled by him, flew back with such force as to strike, and kill him instantly.

A MODEL INSTITUTION.—The Iron City College is an institution not of theories, but of the most rigid, correct and comprehensive practice. It is an entire business world in itself Every possible contingency of business life the student encounters and works out independently in the course of his own experience. When a man graduates from this College, he has, in preparing to do business, actually done business for some time, and graduating is little else than change from one office to another.—Pittsburgh Post.

MERRY'S MUSEUM, for June, contains the first part of "Mink Curtis; or Life in the Backwoods, by an old Hunter," with a full page illustration by Billings. M Alcott The Loggers, Milestones of English History; Aunt Sue's Puzzle Drawer, &c., &c.; all fully and finely illustrated. WE are pleased to chronicle the numerous evidences of enterprise displayed by our citizens. this season. We note that operations are now under full headway at the brick yard of R. W. Downey Esq. This with Capt. Kent's kiln and the Planing Mill, will supply material for the erection of a sufficient number of dwellings to accommodate the ever existing and increasing demand for houses by persons wishing to locate here. Those having the means, should no longer stand in their own light but act at once. It would undoubtedly redound to their honor as well as profit. Rumor says Mr. Downey intends building a fine brick on the site of the dilapidated Adams House. Success.

MUSCLE VS. REASON.—The evening of the election was the time of an animated scene on the square. Two parties not satisfied with lawful provisions as to who should vote and who should not, concluded to decide it by a passage at arms. The "mill" resulted in a couple of bloody faces and bruised "sconces" without either party becoming convinced of the other's argument. One actually was fast losing his ability to "see it" in any light when the valiant exertions of disinterested (?) parties prevented such a crisis. The crowd naturally took sides and some seemed anxious to renew the battle by kicking up a general muss. Several loud-mouthed ruffians, who have attained a notoriety for booting drunken men and insulting old men, were especially active in doing the wood-work. The wiser counsels of right-minded men prevailed, however, and the thing was quieted down. We understood that our officers acted resolutely and would have promptly quelled a repetition of the disgraceful method of settling difficulties. Let it be so. Let bullies bandy billingsgate but be it understood that peaceful citizens will speak their mind fearlessly as long as they speak respectfully.

SOMETHING extraordinary in the show line is to make its appearance in this place on Saturday, 13th inst. The establishment refered to is entitled "The Great American exposition of Circus and Trained Animals," undoubtedly the largest and most perfectly equipped troupe of any that has started out this season. The company hails from Philadelphia, under the management of Messrs. Hemings, Cooper and Whitby, and is everywhere spoken of in terms of highest eulogy. By this advertisement and the superb posters displayed around town, we learn that on the morning of the day of exhibition the company will make their grand entrance in dress procession, parading the principle streets, accompanied with music, etc. The magnificent pageant displays the stock and material of the great show, attracting thousands from the adjoining towns, and for its novelty and excellence, drawing immense crowds to witness the daring splendors of the circus, and the performmance of the finest menagerie of trained animals ever exhibited on this continent.

WE see by our exchanges that Commemoration Day was universally observed throughout the country. City and hamlet vied with each other in this beautiful and fitting tribute to our Nation's protectors who are

"Sleeping to waken in this weary world no more,
Sleeping for their true loved country, sleeping for the flag they bore."

The ceremonies were everwhere highly interesting and largely attended, showing how deeply in the hearts of the people lies love of our country and its flag, and pride in her gallant defenders. Long may the day be celebrated.

"Look on this picture, and then on that."
Here you behold the infirm step,
The pallid cheek, wasting form.
Untasted food, and a social atmosphere
Poisoned with the tales of aches, pains,
Sleepless nights and mental despondency.
There laughing health, sparkling eyes,
Elastic steps, craving appetite, forgotten cares
Genial thought and ambitious resolves,
Show the contrast and mark the picture.

One took the Plantation Bitters—the other didn't. They are very beneficial for weak and delicate persons.

MAGNOLIA WATER.—A delightful toilet articles—superior to Cologne and at half the price

BOROUGH ELECTION.—Saturday last the Cops elected a Burgess, Councilmen and Election Board, by their usual majority. The men are of the "rale old stock!" thorough-bred, trained to the gymnastic evolution of flinging themselves outside of a tumbler of "medicine" without winking or making a face—intensely Democratic! If the town didn't get along about as well without a board of officers as with, we should be constrained to deplore the "condition of the country!"

DOWN TO THE DOTS.—Perseverance and the determination to do the fair thing settles the fact that D. Shirk has won him a reputation for selling fine and cheap goods justifying the immense outlay he has just made to fill his store for June Court. Those who mean to buy bargains as well as the best of every thing should stop in his room in Wilson's new building.

HESITATING.—Pendleton, it is said, hesitates whether to accept the Presidential nomination on the Democratic repudiation platform as the means of getting rid of the national debt, or to stick by Guiher and his low prices as the readiest way to relieve the country. The latter is much to be preferred by working people.

FINANCIAL.—Phalon's "Flor De Mayo," the new perfume for the handkerchief, is creating considerable excitement among the five-twenties, also among the sweet-sixteens. Sold by all druggists.

A SUPERIOR article of fine Family Flour, manufactured at Oak Forest Mills, from No. 1 Wheat—now on hand and for Sale at N. H. McClelland's Grocery Store.

WAKENED UP!—Guiher has aroused himself from a Rip Van Winkle sleep and again stalks forth on the mercantile board "the noblest Roman of them all." He has filled his store up anew and invites the good people of Greene county to call and see him, at the old room.

JUST OPENED.—A new and complete stock of Boots and Shoes, at M. C. & H. Bell's cheap store, Sayers' corner, Waynesburg. Among their stock will be found all the Spring Styles, direct from the manufacturers, selected by M. C. Bell expressly for this market.

THE time of the completion of the Baptist College at Jefferson is not known, but that Fordyce's sell the best goods at the lowest price is a fact generally admitted.

IPSA VERITAS is what a Latin Scholar acquainted with Evans & Minor's prices, would say, when told that they had the cheapest goods in the Market.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITERS!—Money is not the only thing that can be successfully counterfeited. For genuine Dry Goods, go to Evans & Minor's.

WOULD YOU BE RICH?—Buy all your dry goods of Evans & Minor. "A penny saved is two pennies made."

HAIR Brushes, Cloth Brushes, Paint Brushes and all kinds of Brushes for sale at G. W. Roberts' Drug Store.

A PURE article of Copal and Coach Varnish just received and for sale at G. W. Roberts' Drug Store.

Sewing Machines.

THE WORLD RENOWNED

SINGER

SEWING MACHINE.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE,

Has been over two years in preparation, and which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor or expense, and is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the best Sewing Machine in existence.

The Machine in question is simple, compact, durable and beautiful. It is quiet, light running and capable of performing a range and variety of work never before attempted upon a single Machine—using either Silk, Twist, Linen or Cotten Thread, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the unique, useful and popular folding tops and cabinet cases peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company have been prepared for enclosing the new Machines. These are gotten up in every variety of wood, such as Black Walnut, Mahogany, Rosewood, and the like, and from the plainest to the most elaborate pattern and finish—the Machines themselves being more or less highly ornamented, to correspond with the Tables or Cabinets for which they are intended.

A few reasons why SINGER'S latest improved SEWING MACHINES are the best for Family and General Purposes.

1st. You can sew anything from the finest single thickness of Swiss or Nansook to several thicknesses of the heaviest Beaver cloth, using any kind or size of thread with equal facility, from No. 200 Cotton up to the heaviest patent or Linen thread.

2d. It uses a short, straight needle, easily set, and makes the popular Lock Stitch alike on both sides.

3d. It has an even self-adjusting tension which requires no change for different thicknesses of material or different sizes of thread.

4th. It is free from all springs, wires and other complications, and is almost noiseless.

5th. No threads to hold or wheels to turn in starting.

6th. It does not have to be taken apart to oil and clean it.

7th. It has a perfect feed whereby you can sew the finest materials without having to keep your work stretched to prevent its "puckering," and you never have to assist the work through as in all other machines.

8th. It will hem any width, sew a straight seam, or make a fell in the most perfect manner, with less skill than is required to sew a straight seam on any other machine.

Its attachments for Braiding, Cording, Quilting, Binding, Tucking, &c., are novel and practical, and require but little skill to use them.

Careful instructions given at the house of the purchaser.

Money refunded if the machines are not as represented.

Every machine warranted and kept in repair three years without charge.
